JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS, TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 3, 1903.

BOTH PARTIES MAKE CLAIMS

HOW MANAGERS CLAIM ELECTIONS WILL GO.

Indications Point to a Close Contest in New York—A Stubborn Campaign in Maryland—Estimates From Other States.

New York, Nov. 2.—With every indication of a close struggle to morrow the eye of battle finds the leaders of fusion and Tammany loud in their predictions of an overwhelming triumph. So confident is Charles E. Murphy in his estimate of 100,000 plurality for McClellan, based on returns of all his district leaders, that to night he issued orders to go ahead with preparations for celebration of the victory. The estimate of John J. Delaney, McClellan's personal campaign manager, places his plurality at 85,000.

While abating nothing in confidence, fusionist leaders claim no more than 30,000 plurality for Low, although it is said that their closest estimates point to a majority of about half that figure. Fusionists pin their faith in victory on their ability to carry Brooklyn by at least 25,000.

Not to lag behind others in confidence, William S. Devery announces he expects to poll not less than 45 per cent of the total registered vote. Considerable interest attaches to the size of the vote Devery will control and it may have serious influence on the result.

IOWA.

Des Moines, Nov. 2.—Rain is indicated over Iowa to night and to morrow. Should it keep farmers out of fields the aggregate vote will be increased and with it the Republican plurality. All state headquarters are closed and no revision of Saturday's claims has been made. Governor Cummins closed his campaign with an address at Clinton to night and J. B. Sullivan, Democratic candidate, spoke at Creston, his home. Cummins claims 55,000. Democratic Chairman Jackson admits a Republican plurality of 20,000.

OHIO.

Columbus, Nov. 2.—On the eve of the election estimates of the two parties continue to represent the two extremes. The Democrats give no figure on the state ticket and claim only a bare majority of the legislature, while Republicans claim a large plurality on the state ticket and almost twice as large a majority in the legislature.

MARYLAND.

Baltimore, Nov. 2.—All sides agree that has been one of the most stubbornly fought campaigns in the history of Maryland. The predominant feeling with voters and leaders is the struggle is not merely of state importance but that it is to have bearing on the national contest next year. Respective leaders continue to declare their confidence in to morrow's result.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln, Nov. 2.—The chairman of the Republican committee estimates that with an average vote the Republican ticket will win by 15,000. The fusion committee chairman offers no figures, but expresses jubilation "over prospects for re-election of Chief Justice Sullivan."

PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia, Nov. 2.—The general opinion expressed by Republican leaders is that Pennsylvania will to morrow give its usual off-year majority for Republican candidates. Democratic leaders decline to give figures.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence, Nov. 2.—Democrat leaders expect to win by about 2,000 plurality, which is a loss of 5,000 from last year's victory, while Republicans express belief Colonel Colt will win by from 5,000 to 7,000.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, Nov. 2.—One of the liveliest campaigns in the history of Massachusetts closed with indications of a heavy vote and both sides confident.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville, Nov. 2.—Democrats to night claim 20,000 majority for Beckham for governor. The Republican state committee say their estimates indicate Beckham's election by 12,000.

It is not known what caused the explosion.

OFFICERS AND INDIANS FIGHT

TWO BATTLES FOUGHT IN IN WYOMING.

Two Officers and Several Indians Killed—Posse was After Indians for Violating Game Laws—Searching for Red Men

Denver, Nov. 2.—As the result of two battles between Indians and a sheriff's posse 500 men gathered from surrounding ranches are now scouring the vicinity of Lightning Creek, Wyoming, in search of seventy-five Indians under Chief Charlie Carries Elk, supposed to be from Pine Ridge and Rose Bud agencies, South Dakota.

The Indians had been slaughtering game for some time contrary to the laws of Wyoming, and settlers complain Indians have been killing and stealing their cattle. Sheriff Miller and posse went in pursuit of the Indians, intending to arrest them, they came up with them Saturday. The Indians had received warning and prepared an ambushade. The posse would have been entirely wiped out but for the fact they were proceeding cautiously and were in a measure prepared for some trick on the part of the Indians. When withing rifle shot the Indians opened fire. At the first volley the sheriff and posse ran to cover and then ensued a genuine Indian fight. The whites found refuge behind trees and boulders, but the sheriff and Deputy Fessenburg were killed. It is thought at least six Indians were killed and several others wounded, among the latter Eagle Feather, a sub chief. The battle lasted almost an hour, when the Indians succeeded in escaping. They carried the dead and wounded with them and are now believed to be on their way to the Bad Lands in Nebraska.

The officers did not attempt to follow, but sent a courier to Lusk, the nearest telegraph office, with a message to Governor Chatterton.

News of the battle spread rapidly and every ranchman for miles around armed himself and joined one of the numerous posses hastily organized to punish the Indians.

In a second battle with Indians, which is said to have occurred Sunday afternoon near the scene of the first fight, ten Indians were killed and eleven captured. None of the posses were killed in the second fight.

Indians claim the government has reduced rations so that they are forced to kill game.

SPEAKS OF NAVY

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 2.—Secretary Moody delivered an address this evening to the Harvard Political club on "The Administration of a Navy." He declared this allegation entirely without foundation. Speaking of high scores made by gunners in recent practice tests, Moody said: "These results have been accomplished by American citizens. All of our officers are, of course, Americans, and of 25,000 enlisted men 73.8 per cent are native born, 10.9 per cent naturalized citizens and 9.3 per cent aliens. We may have deserters from other navies in our ranks; I know of none, however, and if I learned of one I would instantly discharge him."

WHY ARE WE ALIVE.

At its first session in Washington the American Public Health association was informed that "the air in sleeping cars becomes vitiated" and that these conveyances "are fruitful sources of disease."

The bacteriologists, says the Inter Ocean, are constantly finding it harder and harder for the ordinary man to understand why he is alive.

In fact, if the disease germs which science assures us now are lurking everywhere—in our drinking water, in our milk, in our fruit, in our vegetables, in our clothing, in our letters, in our theater tickets, in our sleeping-car berths—have existed always, it is difficult for the ordinary man to understand why his ancestors were not annihilated some thousands of years before he was born.

If the disease germs are as active to day as the bacteriologists say they are, they must have been fully as active away back in the stone age, when the best families drank surface water, ate weeds, and enjoyed the best of health and spirits. They must have swarmed by the billion in the homes of the mound builders and cave dwellers.

The castles of the feudal barons must have swarmed with disease germs. And in later days, when the families from which our very best and frequently very healthiest citizens have sprung, cooked, ate and slept in one room on the ground floor of a log cabin; when children slept four or five in a trundle bed; when sanitation, except in its very crudest form, was unknown, the disease germs must have reigned in a perpetual feast.

And yet, as we know, population increased; children were vigorous, men were robust, women were buxom; in fact, notwithstanding their ignorance of the sanitary laws which have since been enacted for the preservation of the race our ancestors were fairly healthy.

There is little question that we all should have been dead long ago, or that the great majority of us would never have been born, if something had not intervened to prevent the disease germs from annihilating those who came before us. They must have been saved by a widespread lack of knowledge concerning things which they were better off for not knowing or even suspecting.

A MISTAKE.

The action of the city council yesterday afternoon in refusing to adopt the ordinance granting the Jacksonville and Concord Railroad company permission to go ahead and construct the road in accordance with the plans laid down by the engineers in charge was certainly ill-timed to say the least and reflected no credit on the six aldermen who voted for the delay. For three weeks that measure has been in the hands of the clerk. The members of the council heard it read and knew it would, or should, come up for consideration at the next meeting. They were fully aware of its importance when it was presented and yet one and all agreed that they had not been to look over the territory mentioned in the measure nor is it at all probable that one of them would have gone between this and Thursday night. The main contention was regarding the matter of a subway under Hackett avenue and the objecting members insisted they were not willing to vote until they had been to look over the ground. The diagram prepared by the engineer was a better guide than an actual visit to the place, unless with the exception of the question of the subway. Regarding that Mayor Davis made a perfectly fair proposition. If in its wisdom the council decided a subway under Hackett avenue was necessary he would veto the present ordinance Thursday night and permit such a measure to be passed as would comprehend the desired changes. In addition, Mr. Crane gave his word of honor that he would carry out the wishes of the council should they decide that a subway was important. The road's objections to the subway lie in the fact that at this late date it would have to be of wood, which is dangerous as witness the awful disaster at Chatsworth, where ninety-three lives were the forfeit of a wooden affair which burned without the knowledge of any person. Mr. Crane explained that the contractors were on the ground and the road would have a force of several hundred men to pay for standing still until the council moved. In addition to this the fine weather is passing away and there is no telling how soon winter

APPLE TREE BEARS TWICE.

An article appeared in the Journal recently regarding an apple tree near Sycamore, Ill., which was bearing its second crop of apples this season and which had gone through the usual process, having blossomed in the spring and again in the fall followed each time by a large yield of luscious fruit.

Mrs. John S. Magill, of this city, was so interested in the article that she wrote to the owner of the apple orchard in which the tree is standing and received the following reply:

Your letter received; the paper clipping was correct. Since the crop of forty-eight bushels was made the top limbs have been picked and fifteen bushels more realized, which makes sixty-three bushels actually picked and measured. This does not include apples that dropped off in the nights or those blown off in heavy winds. The estimate by farmers watching the tree was from 30 to 100 bushels. It is a very large tree and every twig was full. The tree is over forty years old. The apples were all spoken for before picked. Would liked to have sent you some. Not as large as usual, but fair size.

Respectfully,
Mrs. B. S. Davis,
Sycamore, Ill.

FOR THE CHILDREN

A Bully's Backdown.
J. L. Harbour, the popular writer of books for boys, tells the following story in Our Young People of a street gamin who showed he had the right "stuff" in him:

Some schoolboys were on their way to school one morning. One of them, a little fellow, was terribly annoyed by the teasing of a bigger boy and finally "shied" an apple core at his tormentor.

This roused the bully's wrath, and he proceeded to maul the little fellow without mercy. The other boys all looking on without a finger lifted in the little fellow's defense.

Leaping against a lamppost up the street was a typical gamin, ragged, unkempt and far removed from the tidy, well fed and well-dressed school-boys. Their life ways were far apart. A bundle of newspapers was under his arm, and he seemed to be looking about for a customer. Suddenly he let the unsold papers drop to the snowy ground and came running lightly and swiftly down the street, his blue eyes aflame and his grimy fists clinched. The next instant the big, well dressed assailant of the small boy found himself seized by the collar and jerked violently to the ground by a boy of about his own size, who said boldly:

"Take a kid o' yer size when ye want ter fight, yer big coward! Take a kid o' yer size!"

The big fellow struggled to his feet and said blusteringly, "Who's going to keep me from touching him if I want to?"

"I am!" said the gamin, standing as erect as a West Point cadet, and, whipping off his ragged jacket, he gave his head a toss and said again:

"I am goin' to see that you don't touch him ag'in! If you want to fight take a kid o' yer size, I tell ye! Try yer hand on me!"

"Humph!" said the big fellow, without, however, offering to touch the "kid of his size."

"Yer a coward; that's what you are," said the gamin. "Ye don't dare touch a kid o' yer size!"

Nor did he. Mumbling and threatening, he walked off, with the jeers of his schoolmates ringing in his ears.

Can You Guess?

When Helen Fiske was eight years old she had a birthday party, and all her little friends were invited.

They had a delightful time playing games and singing, and after supper they amused themselves guessing riddles for a time. The children told some very good ones that were hard to guess, but the one that puzzled them most of all was the one that Mrs. Fiske gave, and this is what she said:

"You all know, children, that this is Helen's eighth birthday. Now, I never have had but seven birthdays, and yet you know that I am a great deal older than Helen. Can you tell me how that can be?"

Mrs. Fiske was not joking, and finally one little girl guessed how it was. Can you guess too?

Try to Tie It.

Obtain a piece of string about a yard long and lay it out straight on a table. Take one end between the forefinger and thumb of the right hand and the other end between the forefinger and thumb of the left hand. Now try to tie a knot in the string without loosening the hold at either end.

Like most other tricks, this is easy to do when you know how. Simply fold your arms before picking up the ends of the string, unfold them, and you have an ordinary knot tied in the string.

The Strength of a Horse.

When you hear of "horse power" you must understand that it means the strength of one horse. "Two horse power" is equal to the strength of fifteen men or two horses, and fifteen men are about as strong as sixty boys under fourteen years of age. One horse power is equal to the strength of seven and one-half men, and the strength of one elephant is more than the strength of four horses.

Ducks as Pets.

Very few boys keep ducks as pets, though a good many keep them for profit, yet there is no bird more easily tamed, especially if cared for and fed constantly by the same person. Ducks are quick witted birds and can be trained to follow their master like a dog and do all kinds of tricks.

Cutting "by Ear."

A little girl who played the piano prettily without instruction had heard her friends say she played "by ear."

One day, seeing her mother cutting a dress by a dressmaker's chart, she inquired:

"Mamma, ladies who don't cut by chart—do they cut by ear?"

Weariness.

Oh, little feet, that go on long years Must wander on through hopes and fears. Must ache and bleed beneath your load, I nearer to the way-side inn, Where toll shall cease and rest begin, Am weary thinking of your road!

Oh, little hands, that weak or strong, Have still to serve or rule so long. Have still so long to give or ask, I, who so much with book and pen Have toiled among my fellow men, Am weary thinking of your task!

Oh, little hearts, that throb and beat With quickened fervor, feel the heat, Such faithless and strong desires, Mine that so long has glowed and burned, With passion into ashes turned, Now covers and conceals its fires!

Oh, little souls, as pure and white And crystalline as rays of light, Direct from Heaven, their sacred gifts, Let them all reach the altar of years, Let them all reach the altar of years,

CITY COUNCIL

Long Discussion Over Franchise to Jacksonville and Concord Railroad.

The council met in called session Monday at 3 p. m. to consider the matter of the right of way of the Jacksonville and Concord Railway company. All present; Mayor Davis in the chair.

The mayor—Gentlemen: It is gratifying to see you all present at first roll call. The first time this has been the case with this council.

A voice—"There's a dollar in it." The clerk read the call and the ordinance which had been prepared in relation to the matter and laid over under the rules.

The mayor said the company was in a hurry to go to work and wished the ordinance adopted as soon as possible.

Ald. Goveia—There should be more definite information regarding the matter to be covered occupied by the road.

A blue print was produced and examined at length by the council.

Ald. Cobb—I favor granting the franchise, but do not feel well enough acquainted with the merits of the case. It should have been referred to a committee to investigate and report. The whole council should go over the territory and see it themselves. We must not be too hasty in acting on an important matter without proper information.

Ald. Hildreth—From Independence avenue to the Wabash track the company uses the C. P. & St. L. track. There is no definite information regarding the use of Illinois avenue.

Judge Kirby—There is no permission asked to run along Illinois avenue, only to cross it to connect with its own tracks in case of a future disagreement of the two roads.

Ald. Vaughn—This ordinance should not be passed in a hurry. I feel friendly to the company, but we must at the same time protect the people. The first clause is too general and while there is no intention to take undue advantage at present there may be a time when the road would take much more if it wished and there would be no help for it. Then too the measure says the main tracks shall not cross these streets except under certain conditions, but this should provide for sidetracks too. If the road is charged nothing for the privilege of crossing the streets, that is enough. Not what the profiles or Judge Kirby says goes, but it is the ordinance that binds the city and we must see to it that the city's rights are protected.

Ald. Hildreth—The company has already acquired certain rights and is ready to go to work.

Mr. Crane—I supposed the matter was fully understood. We are ready to go to work and delay means hundreds of dollars to us.

Judge Kirby—This matter was presented to the highway committee at the first meeting of October, but there was no quorum present and nothing was done.

Ald. Babb—The ordinance should provide for only 100 feet of right of way.

Mr. Crane—We are ready to insert that.

Ald. Goveia—We are glad to favor the company, but they should specify the particulars and be explicit. We should have a committee to look into the subject.

Ald. Kennedy—We must look out for the city's interests. There will be no danger about the railroad; they will look out for themselves. I want to hear Mr. Vaughn read from the state law.

Mr. Vaughn did so and it seemed as if a petition from the property owners adjacent.

Mr. Crane—We have bought all the lots and are the owners ourselves or we have options on them.

Ald. Vaughn—If I had known of this meeting in time I would have looked into it sooner, but as it is I am somewhat in the dark. I want the company to have its full rights, for I feel friendly, but we must protect the city.

Ald. Moore—It seems as if we were giving the right of way from Ashland avenue to Illinois avenue. We have no right to grant the right of way along Illinois avenue.

Ald. Ticknor—We should look more into this matter. We want to know how much grading will be done and what damages sustained.

Ald. McGinnis—We should not be hasty. We should look over the ground and hear from the people down there.

Judge Kirby—The statute provides for a 100-foot right of way, so I did not mention it in the ordinance I prepared. Regarding the law Mr. Vaughn quoted the law refers to a road running down or along a street. All we want to do is to cross the streets. We are on the west side of Illinois avenue and it is west of the C. P. & St. L. track. We only want permission to cross it. We do not ask to run along it.

Ald. Kennedy—You run into the C. P. & St. L. track at Independence avenue as I understand it.

Judge Kirby—That is right, but in case of future disagreement with the C. P. & St. L. road we want a right of way to protect ourselves.

Again the council took a recess for informal discussion.

Ald. Moore—I want to be sure that adjacent property is not damaged. The ordinance should provide that the company should stand all damages.

The mayor—I had supposed the ordinance had been referred to the highway committee and they did not so understand it. It seems to me that Mr. Crane might be permitted to go to work and the matter settled later. Mr. Crane has settled fairly with the people along that line in the city and I have heard no complaint. Any matters you want to add to the ordinance can have attention Thursday night. I think there is no risk in letting Mr. Crane go to work and then you can all see better what are the merits of the case. You can say to them that they can go ahead and then we can go and see the ground and post ourselves thoroughly by Thursday.

Mr. Crane—That will satisfy us. The men are on the ground and want to go ahead.

Ald. Moore—Let Mr. Crane and Judge Kirby retire and amend the ordinance as it should be and let us decide on it now.

Ald. Goveia—We might adjourn now and go down and see the right of way and then come back and act.

Mr. Crane—The profile tells you more than you can see by going down there.

Ald. Goveia—The width of the right of way should be specified; no more than is needed for two tracks. Some other roads have started in with one track and branched out to three.

The mayor—The more tracks they have the more they will have to maintain. I only wish they had tracks enough to keep running trains every fifteen minutes.

Mr. Crane—We only want two tracks along these streets, for more will be too costly. We have arranged for our switch yards below Oak street, for we do not want our yards where the trains have to be cut for so many streets.

The mayor—Will the city be liable for damages to adjacent property?

Judge Kirby—Not in any event; the railroad company must stand it all.

Judge Kirby, Ald. Vaughn, City Attorney Morrissey and Mr. Crane retired to look over the proposed ordinance and correct it in accordance with the views expressed by the members of the council.

The council again came to order and heard Judge Kirby regarding the ordinance. He said there was a vagueness, as some streets or alleys were not named, and he had mentioned all streets or alleys running at right angles to the road. He also mentioned other minor points. The present expectation is to use the C. P. & St. L. tracks from Independence avenue south, but the company hopes some day to secure the necessary land to enable it to run its own tracks on to the Wabash track or East State street.

Ald. Vaughn—As that will be a remote contingency and I think it best to strike out all parts of the ordinance pertaining to the streets south of Independence avenue and when the company wants to use that land they can arrange with future councils.

Mr. Crane—We will agree to that.

Ald. McGinnis—At Hackett avenue there is a grade of ten feet and there should be a subway.

Mr. Crane—I hope you will not insist on this. A subway would have to be of wood, which is dangerous. The blocks are narrow and the grade will be but little hardship. A subway would be a hardship.

Ald. Vaughn—If the street is used much the subway should be put in now, for it will be easier now than any other time.

Ald. Ticknor thought there should be a subway.

Mr. Crane—Can't you compel it any time you see fit?

The mayor—It is a low place and if you will go and see it you will certainly not insist on the subway.

The ordinance as amended was read by the clerk.

Ald. Ticknor—I think each alderman wishes to look over this ground and I move the council adjourn till Wednesday at 2 p. m. and go in a body and look over the ground.

Ald. Vaughn suggested they might as well wait till Thursday, the regular meeting time.

The mayor—Why not let the company go ahead and then the council can look over the ground and pass on the matter Thursday night?

Mr. Crane—It will be a great inconvenience to the contractors to be delayed and we earnestly hope the council will permit us to go ahead.

Ald. Kennedy—We have no right to grant this permission without an ordinance.

Ald. Moore—The company is too vague in its descriptions of its territory. The territory should not go beyond Ashland avenue.

Mr. Crane—That was for the protection of the city. We cannot take any undue liberties by the ordinance.

Ald. Vaughn—Do the profiles show the land bought by the road?

Mr. Crane—The company has bought or secured options on the lots and that is where the road will run.

Ald. Moore—By the terms of the ordinance could you not use all the land to Ashland avenue?

Judge Kirby—The company has but 100 feet in any event and can exert no hardship.

Ald. Vaughn—The only thing that makes me wish delay is the question of a subway at Hackett avenue.

Ald. Moore—Without this there would be no easy crossing in that part of the city.

Mr. Crane—You can compel the subway any time you see fit. There are plenty of level crossings now.

Ald. Babb moved an amendment that the company be required to make a subway at Hackett avenue and leave it out if it were found not needed.

Ald. McGinnis—I don't want to put the road to any unreasonable expense, but we must protect the people.

Mr. Crane—At this time of the year we must make a subway of wood and it is the danger we object to. The Chatsworth wreck where ninety-three people were killed, was due to such a structure as that. The roads are expending millions replacing wooden culverts and bridges.

Ald. Higgins—I think it would be far better if the roadway were graded up than if there were a subway. I have passed it a thousand times.

The mayor—I agree. Pass the ordinance and if you are not satisfied I will veto the measure.

Ald. Vaughn—Would Mr. Crane rather have the ordinance with the subway or the delay?

Mr. Crane—We don't want the subway and we don't want the delay.

Ald. Kennedy—Such a measure should not be left with a committee, but to the whole council.

Mr. Crane—I supposed you had sufficient information already, as the measure has been before you three weeks.

Ald. Ticknor's motion to adjourn till Wednesday at 2 p. m. was put and the vote was a tie.

Ald. Vaughn said he was willing that if Mr. Crane was willing to go ahead and take all risks until Thursday night he would be willing to instruct the mayor not to stop the work and Thursday evening the council could act as they thought best.

The mayor—I want the council to have time to investigate and I don't want the road to be delayed. I think Ald. Vaughn's proposition reasonable.

Mr. Crane—All I ask is that you pass the ordinance as it is and then Thursday night if you want to order a subway we will put it in.

The mayor—If you will pass this ordinance as it is and then go and look the ground over between this and Thursday night and want any changes I give you my word of honor I will veto the ordinance.

Ald. Goveia—I think we ought to pass this ordinance to day and let the company go to work. Then we can go to the place and look it over and make up our minds accordingly.

Ald. Ticknor—We should not act without complete information.

Ald. Doolin—Seven aldermen might think we don't need a subway, but I think we do.

Mr. Crane—If you put yourselves in our place you would be slow in the matter of a subway.

Ald. Babb—Pass this with the subway. Let us look over the ground and pass on the question later.

The mayor—If the road had offered to build into Jacksonville if we would give the right of way we would have done it in a hurry, but as it is a foregone conclusion you are driving a hard bargain.

Mr. Crane—We have asked no favors of anybody, but have paid our way all along and all we ask is permission to go to work.

Ald. Vaughn—I favor accepting the mayor's proposition. Pass the ordinance now and then amend as it seems best next Thursday.

Ald. McGinnis objected.

Ald. Moore agreed.

Ald. Ticknor thought the same.

Mr. Crane—We shall have the pay the whole crowd of men in the employ of the contractors to do nothing if there is any farther delay.

Ald. Hildreth thought the proposition perfectly fair.

Ald. McGinnis—We should wait and not act hastily.

Mr. C. L. Degen was present. He said care should be taken to cover all rights. He thought the proposition of the mayor and Ald. Vaughn fair.

The mayor again asked a roll call on Ald. Ticknor's motion. It was a tie and the mayor voted aye.

10 cts.
a pound

—is a fair price for baking powder. GOOD LUCK— the baking powder of positive purity—has always been sold at that price. The only reason for asking more for any baking powder is the desire for greater manufacturing profit. No more than 10c value can be put in a pound-can. And it will not be necessary to use so much at a baking, if the powder is pure—a heaping teaspoonful is sufficient for a quart of sifted flour, when you use

GOOD LUCK
Baking Powder

Its leavening force is greatest; quantity required the least;
price the lowest. Result from its use—the lightest, whitest, surest, cheapest, most nutritious and wholesome of all baking. The demand for GOOD LUCK is so great that dealers buy it in carload and trainload lots. In every can is a picture of one of these freight cars—a section of a train—with an attractive offer printed on the back—save it! If your dealer doesn't sell
GOOD LUCK, write and send him mine.
We will see that you are supplied.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Wheat—Both cash and speculative business was of extremely draggish nature and prices showed little inclination to move one way or the other.
Continued selling of December by Armour was the only feature to enliven an otherwise dead market and this selling had a depressing influence throughout the day and finally succeeded in forcing prices a trifle lower. At the outset the market was inclined to firmness on smaller Russian shipments and steady cables, and after starting unchanged to rise higher at 8 1/2c December sold up to 8 1/2c (5 1/2c), but soon eased off again to the opening price. Toward noon there was another slight upward movement on decrease of 25,000 bushels in visible supply, compared with increase last year of over 2,000,000.
But persistent selling by a big operator held prices down and with letup in demand from commission houses an easier tone developed. December selling off to 8 1/2c closing at 8 1/2c (5 1/2c), close of 10 1/2c.
The visible decreased 238,000, against 2,382, 000 increase a year ago. On the coast fifteen boat loads were taken. Liverpool unchanged to 3d higher.

Corn—Corn a firm undertone, but the market was an extremely narrow affair. Local traders were inclined to be bearish, but did not sell much owing to weather conditions and reports of small acceptances. The presence of a few buying orders from the country had a stimulating effect, as did better tone of cables.
Trading was dull and featureless. December closed 1/4c higher. Liverpool 1/2 lower to 3d higher. At the seaboard wheat was quiet, with a few scattered bids. The visible increased only 3,000 bushels.
Oats—Were weak and closed at about bottom, with net loss of 1/4c. Trade small and undertone heavy, due to weakness in sample market. The visible increased 1,357,000.

Mrs. S. E. Scott, who has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. J. B. Harlow, on West College avenue, returned to her home in Venice this morning.

The best interests of the county will be served by the election of Luther A. Barr for county commissioner to day. Do your part to ward it.

Because of a break-down in the mill at the Capps factory and a delay in securing the necessary parts to make the repair there will be no work in the mill until Wednesday morning.

The trees are fast shedding their leaves which are falling in all directions. It will be well to clear all roof gutters of the debris which will collect in them from this source, for it will make much trouble if neglected.

No matter how busy you are you should give up a few hours to day to the election and strive for Luther A. Barr, no matter to what party you belong.

Quite Comfortable

"Liquid comfort" is not the only good. There's solid satisfaction—real, lasting benefit in

"IDEAL" COAL

The excellence of this fuel is proved by the large number of coal users who would rather have "Ideal" than any other.

Best way to understand this is to send us an order—for a bushel at 12 cents, or a ton at $13.00. "The proof of the pudding" is—the way the pudding's cooked. "Ideal" coal proves the pudding—every time. Makes cook cheerful. Costs but little. Wood fires will be acceptable during these damp, chilly evenings and mornings.

R. A. Gates & Son

J. H. Zell, the East State grocer, received from Swift & Co., the largest and finest car of potatoes that has come to the city this season. The car held 800 bushels, consequently the force at Zell's grocery was very busy storing them away.

All will agree that Luther A. Barr is the best man for county commissioner if they will become well acquainted with both candidates. No reflection on the character of the opposing candidate is meant, but Mr. Barr is better qualified.

Dr. A. L. Converse, of Springfield, was the guest of Professor Freeman, of the School for the Blind, Sunday and addressed the pupils at the chapel exercises in the afternoon. His remarks were listened to with great interest and pleasure.

R. B. Phillips and wife, of Pontiac, are in the city visiting their niece, Mrs. O. L. Hill, and husband on West College avenue. Mr. Phillips is one of the foremost citizens of the place in which he lives and is an active, public spirited gentleman and like all sensible persons, is greatly pleased with our beautiful city, which he is visiting for the first time.

There should be no difficulty in electing Luther A. Barr for a great many persons who care little for party supremacy know he is the man for county commissioner. No attack is made on the other man, but it is agreed that Mr. Barr is his superior.

Mrs. James E. Babb, wife of Alderman Babb, and son Claude went to Waverly Monday to be present at the marriage of her cousin, Miss Alice Pinkerton, of Waverly, to Edward Fanning, of Springfield. He will take a position with his father at the Farm office, as the growing interests of that paper make necessary an increase in the office force.

FUNERALS.

GRIMSLEY.

The funeral of Robert Grimsley was conducted from the family residence at 511 South Prairie street Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and into this home was gathered a very large attendance of the young friends of the deceased. It was a sad occasion, for the life of one young in years, popular among his associates, talented and whose excellent standing among all his friends had made him a great favorite, had been taken away almost without warning. Rev. T. H. Marsh, pastor of the First Baptist church, conducted the services and he spoke most impressively of the ambitions of this young man and of his faithful and thorough preparation for the things of life only to lay them down just at the time he was ready to make the most of his abilities. Appropriate songs were sung by a choir consisting of Mrs. Alice Richardson, Mrs. John Goltra, Misses Laura Hayden and Bertha Anderson, W. J. Moore and Luther Smith.

Many very beautiful flowers bore silent testimony to the high estimation in which he was held by all his friends and they were placed in charge of Miss Pense, of Pittsfield and Miss Ebers, of Virginia.

The remains were laid at rest in Jacksonville cemetery, the bearers being Ernest Frost, Lloyd Snurley, Walter Ferris, Lee Harlow, Claud Vail and Frank Spencer.

SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL.

The event was successful, both as to proceeds and attendance and the ladies in charge are to be congratulated upon their effort. One member stated that dependent persons among the deaf are very few, which reflects great credit upon the deaf. The committee on arrangements desires to thank all the ladies who so kindly assisted in making the evening a success.

BADLY WOUNDED FROM A GUN SHOT

Mrs. Mary Teele of Waverly Severely Injured by Accidental Discharge of a Gun.

Mrs. Mary Teele, of Waverly, was accidentally shot about 7 o'clock Monday evening and it is feared that her injuries are fatal. A discharge from a shotgun lodged in her breast.

Mrs. Teele was with her husband at the corn crib near the house. They were attempting to dislodge a pole cat which was hiding under the crib when by some accident the shotgun Mr. Teele had, was discharged and the load struck his wife full in the breast. Mrs. Teele fell wounded and her husband hastened to carry her into the house and summon assistance. A physician from Waverly was soon secured and on examination he found that Mrs. Teele's injuries were very serious. At a late hour Monday night it was feared she could not recover.

Mrs. Teele is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, of North Main street, this city, and they were apprised of the unfortunate accident last night. Mr. Wilson started for Waverly to render any possible assistance to his daughter.

AT THE GRAND.

Villany was again undone and virtue placed upon a pedestal of greatness at the Grand opera house last night, when "At Cripple Creek" was presented before an enthusiastic audience. While making no pretensions to literary merit, the drama has more merit in point of construction and character drawing than has the average drama of its class. The comedy and the serious elements are happily blended, and the action brisk and sustained. A sensational effect is introduced at the close of act two, when the child is hurled from a cliff and rescued in midair by the Indian, Waketah, who swings out upon a grapevine. Baby Lester displayed talent far beyond her years in the role of Little Tattoo, and Franklyn Searight won many rounds of applause as the hero. Good work was done also by Gipsy Mae Ward, Marion Chester, Muriel Haynes, Edward Paulus, Will J. Winkoff, Van B. Adams, J. Wilson Dwyer, C. Nick Stark and George W. Miller.

After the supper the company went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Capps, where the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. The Capps salesmen are noted for their social proclivities and the pleasant gatherings they have had together have brought them into the happy relation of sincere friendship, which added to the tie of business association has united them in a bond of genial fellowship.
